Welcome to the third edition of Sequent Talks! This month, we're bringing you the latest VR Funny News and some questionable metaverse moments. Plus, don't miss the exclusive VR Biotech Facility Walkthrough with AI Demo!

Funny Tech News

Live in VR: Two Penn State researchers are gearing up to spend 55 continuous hours in VR, aiming to set a Guinness World Record. While many can watch movies or play games in virtual reality, few dare to tackle the challenge of answering nature's call in VR. We're eagerly curious to see how this unfolds!

Lick-able VR: Innovations such as a lickable lollipop device that replicates flavors in VR are redefining the limits of immersive technology. By blending taste and smell, this invention crafts a more lifelike virtual reality experience. Now, who's leading the charge on smell-able tech?

VR Hits Different - Crying Over a Virtual Pangolin: Who would've guessed a VR experience could leave you reaching for tissues? It seems those headsets are adept at transporting you both "physically" and emotionally!
